WHAT TO DO

Immerse yourself in Miami's Cuban heritage by visiting Little Havana. Walk along Calle Ocho, where you can watch cigar rollers at work, listen to live Latin music, and grab an authentic Cuban coffee.

If you have time, stop by Domino Park, where locals gather to play dominoes and chat.

If you appreciate street art and creativity, take a stroll through Wynwood Walls. This outdoor museum features large-scale, colourful murals painted by world-renowned artists. The surrounding neighborhood is also packed with art galleries, coffee shops, and craft breweries, making it a great place to explore. For more, head to the Perez Art Museum Miami (PAMM) located in Downtown Miami. The museum offers contemporary art exhibits with beautiful views of Biscayne Bay. For an evening of culture, check out a performance at the Adrienne Arsht Center for the Performing Arts. This venue hosts everything from Broadway shows to ballet, opera, and live music. If you have a free night, this is a great way to unwind and enjoy Miami's arts scene.
